Dear Customer

Welcome to our September bulletin. I am pleased to confirm that our major European suppliers have now returned from their summer holiday shutdown. I hope that you were not too inconvenienced during this period.

Some of you may already be aware of Rayleigh's in-house manufacturing capability provided by the Raytel Group Ltd., of which Rayleigh is a subsidiary company. This function is particularly useful to customers requiring tailor-made products. For example, we recently designed and manufactured explosion proof electronic thermostats for a large international company. This included obtaining the necessary certification from BASEEFA.

We would certainly welcome the opportunity to discuss any requirements you may have for specialist or niche product requirements. The Raytel Group Limited also contract manufacture electronic products and would similarly welcome enquiries.

Yours sincerely
Gary Brookes
Managing Director
